

Welcome to quickeaction!

Quickeaction was founded in 2004 to make selling luxury items online easy and profitable for anyone.

Quickeaction's mission is to:

- Provide a virtual selling experience our clients rave about
- Create better sales and higher profits for individuals and small businesses
- Maximize fundraising efforts for non-profits by leveraging the power of an internet marketplace of 200 million users — and growing.

Quickeaction's unique business model — utilizing auction consultants in the field — means that we do all the work. You just cash your check when your items sell.

Here's how it works

First, schedule an appointment with one of our auction consultants to determine the selling value of your item(s).

Next, we'll take digital photographs, write copy, and create the auction listing on eBay. We'll track the auctions and answer questions from prospective buyers.

Finally, we'll carefully pack and ship your item to the winning bidder. Once the transaction is complete, you'll receive a check in the mail.

Who uses quickeaction?

- Individuals
- Estates
- Luxury retail stores and small- to medium-sized businesses who want to use the internet as a secondary market to reach a broader audience.
- Non-profits who want to take auction fundraising online to increase revenue.
